Footnotes

1) Calculated at the net asset value, excl. front-end load, distributions reinvested. Calculation according to method as defined by BVI, the German Fund Companies Association. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. Any front-end loads reduce the capital employed and the performance. These figures refer to the past. If the currency of a financial product, financial service or its costs is different from your reference currency, the return and/or costs can increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. Source for all data and chart (if not indicated otherwise): IDS GmbH. All performance data since 03/11/2021 of Allianz Smart Europe Equity Active UCITS ETF - Acc - EUR prior to the launch date, 15/07/2026 refer to another investment fund. This does not imply that Allianz Smart Europe Equity Active UCITS ETF - Acc - EUR will experience a similar performance in the future. All share classes/investment funds mentioned above are based on the same investment objectives and strategies as well as risk profiles and fee structures. Past performance does not predict future returns

2) Morningstar Rating: © 2007 Morningstar, Inc., all rights reserved. The information given here: (1) is protected by copyright for Morningstar and/or its content providers / (2) may not be reproduced or distributed / and (3) is not guaranteed to be accurate, complete or up-to-date. Morningstar and its content providers assume no responsibility for any losses or damage that result from any use of the information provided. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. To determine the Morningstar Rating, funds of a comparable group in issue for at least three years are considered. The long-term performance serves as a basis, taking into account fees and risk. As a result, the funds are awarded stars, which are calculated monthly: Top 10%: 5 stars / next 22.5%: 4 stars / middle 35%: 3 stars / next 22.5%: 2 stars / flop 10%: 1 star. A ranking, rating or award is not an indicator of future performance and is subject to change over time. Rating as of: 30/09/2026

3) The Risk Indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. The categorization of a product is not guaranteed and may change in the future. Even the lowest category 1 does not mean a risk-free investment

4) The all-In fee covers the fees formerly designated as management, administration and distribution fee. A potential payment of a trail fee from the management company to the distribution partner would be taken out of the all-in fee.

5) The dividend yield is equivalent to expected dividend payments divided by the actual share price and is expressed as a percentage. (eDiv/share price), with eDiv = product of the last dividend payment and the number of expected dividend payments per year (for example, the expected dividend for a share with quarterly dividend payments is equivalent to the dividend paid for the past quarter times four). The dividend yield depends on both the dividend amount and the current share price, with both of these factors constantly changing. The dividend yield is only a transitory variable, which is based on the current dividend amount and the current share price. Therefore, it does not predict the future returns of an equity fund.

6) Measure of the proportion of fund assets that is invested differently from the benchmark.

7) Alpha is a measure of a portfolio's excess return relative to its expected return based on its risk level. It represents the value added (or subtracted) by a portfolio manager beyond what is explained by market movements.

8) Tracking error is the difference in actual performance between the portfolio and its corresponding benchmark. The tracking error can be also considered as an indicator of how actively a fund is managed and its corresponding risk level. It is measured as standard deviation of the portfolio's excess returns over the benchmark.

9) The Information Ratio (IR) is a measure of a portfolio manager's ability to generate excess returns relative to a benchmark, adjusted for risk.

10) Volatility measures the fluctuation range of the fund's performance over a specified period of time

11) The Sharpe ratio states the relationship between the return generated by the fund and the investment risk. The fund's excess return versus the risk-free market rate is compared to volatility. Negative values are not meaningful.

12) This is for guidance only and not indicative of future allocation.

13) The Global Industry classification standard "GICS" was developed by and is exclusive property and service mark of MSCI Inc. ("MSCI") And Standard & Poor´s division of the McGraw-Hill Companies.
