First Trust Bloomberg Space Economy UCITS ETF

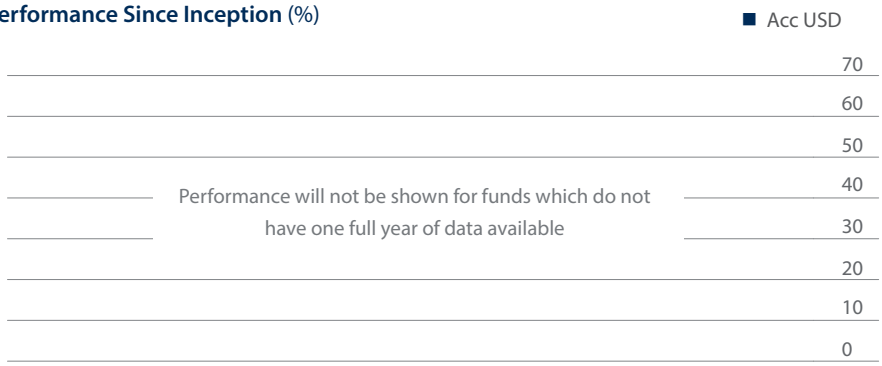

The fund is a passively managed, index-tracking fund that seeks to provide investors with investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield of the Bloomberg Space Economy Index (the "Index") before fees and expenses. The Index seeks to measure the performance of companies with exposure to the space economy, including those operating across space domain awareness, launch and space transportation, satellites and communications, space data and artificial intelligence. Securities must meet certain criteria to be included in the Index, such as being a member of the Bloomberg Intelligence Space Basket – a universe of stocks with meaningful exposure to the space economy theme.

- To be eligible for inclusion in the Index, companies must: (i) belong to the Gold or Silver Tier of the Bloomberg Intelligence Space Basket; (ii) have a minimum market capitalisation of $500 million; (iii) have a three-month average daily traded value (ADTV) of at least $5 million; (iv) not be listed on the Shanghai or Shenzhen Stock Connect Exchanges.
- The Bloomberg Thematic Protocol determines 'Gold' and 'Silver' tiers by evaluating companies based on their revenue exposure to the space economy and a broader assessment of their positioning and ability to execute within the competitive landscape.
- Securities are ranked based on their revenue linked to the space economy and free float market capitalisation, with a maximum of 50 stocks selected for the Index. Constituents are then weighted by revenue intensity, based on a combination of their revenue linked to the space economy and their free float market capitalisation, with Gold tier companies capped at 4.5% of the Index and Silver tier capped at 3%. All constituents are subject to a minimum weighting of 0.1%.
- The Index prioritises Gold tier companies based on revenue exposure and market capitalisation, supplementing with Silver tier names as required.
- The Index is reconstituted and rebalanced quarterly, in January, April, July and October.

Risks

- The Fund may not achieve its investment objective and the value of shares in the Fund may fall.
- Neither First Trust Global Portfolios Management Limited ("FTGPM") nor any of its affiliates, guarantees the performance or the future returns of the Fund.
- The creation and utilisation of space-related technologies is a business based on anticipation of future developments and is witnessing new entrants into the market. The exploitation and utilisation of space is a global event with a growing number of corporate participants looking to meet the future needs of a growing global population. Technological and engineering advances may not be sufficient, or occur quickly enough, to fulfil current expectations regarding progress in space exploration and development.
- Other risks include obsolescence of existing systems and equipment, supply chain issues, cybersecurity incidents, government spending policies, requirements of government contracting processes, regulatory changes, geopolitical instability and shortages of skilled labour, among other things. Therefore, investments by the Fund may be riskier than traditional investments in established industry sectors and the growth of these companies may be slower and subject to setbacks as new technology advancements are made to expand into space.
- These investment risks are not purported to be exhaustive and potential investors should review the Prospectus and the Supplement carefully and consult with their professional advisors before making an application for Shares.
- Investment in the Fund is not for investors who cannot afford to lose all or a significant part of their investment.
- There is no assurance that the Index will continue to be calculated and published on the basis described in the Prospectus. In addition, the Fund's return may not match the return of the Index.
- See also the description of the risks applicable to the Fund in "Risk Factors" in the prospectus.
