State Street SPDR Commodity UCITS ETF (the "Fund"), a sub-fund of SSGA SPDR ETFs Europe II plc (a UCITS authorised Exchange Traded Fund). This Fund is managed by State Street Global Advisors Europe Limited.

Share Class: State Street SPDR Commodity GBP Hdg UCITS ETF (Acc) (ISIN IE000M8NCUC9)

Objectives and Investment Policy

Investment Objective The investment objective of the Fund is to reflect the total return performance of the broad commodity market.

The Fund is an index tracking fund (also known as a passively managed fund).

Investment Policy The Fund seeks to replicate the performance of the Dow Jones Commodity Index 3 Month Forward - Quarterly Reweight GBP Hedged ("the Index").

The Fund does not invest directly in physical commodities or commodity futures contracts. Instead, it utilises a synthetic replication strategy through the use of financial derivative instruments, specifically unfunded total return swaps ("TRS"), to gain exposure to the Index. These swaps are agreements with approved counterparties to exchange the performance of the Index for a market-based rate of return. The Fund's remaining assets are invested in money market instruments which serve as collateral for the TRS as further outlined in the Supplement

The Index is a broad measure of the commodity futures market, containing 29 commodity future contracts equally weighted across three major sectors: energy, metals, agriculture and livestock. The Index is rebalanced quarterly, and its constituents are selected annually using a rules-based selection process as further outlined in the Supplement.

Exposure to a single commodity is limited to 20% of the NAV of the Fund, or up to 35% in exceptional market conditions in line with UCITS guidelines.

In exceptional circumstances, in accordance with UCITS guidelines, the Fund may also have exposure to securities not included in the Index, but which closely reflect the risk and distribution characteristics of the constituents of the Index.

The Shares of the GBP Class are issued in Pound Sterling.

Shareholders may redeem shares on any UK business day (other than days on which relevant financial markets are closed for business and/or the day preceding any such day provided that a list of such closed market days will be published for the Fund on www.ssga.com); and any other day at the Directors' discretion (acting reasonably) provided Shareholders are notified in advance of any such days.

Any income earned by the Fund will be retained and reflected in an increase in the value of the shares.

Index Source: "Dow Jones," and the Index are service marks of Dow Jones & Company, Inc. and have been licensed for use for certain purposes by State Street Investment Management. Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk Potentially lower reward — Higher risk Potentially higher reward

Risk Disclaimer The risk category above is not a measure of capital loss or gains but of how significant the rises and falls in the Fund's return have been historically.

For example a fund whose return has experienced significant rises and falls will be in a higher risk category, whereas a fund whose return has experienced less significant rises and falls will be in a lower risk category.

The lowest category (i.e., category 1) does not mean that a fund is a risk free investment.

As the Fund's risk category has been calculated using historical simulated proxy data, it may not be a reliable indication of the Fund's future risk profile.

The Fund's risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Why is this Fund in this category? The Fund is in risk category 6 as its return has experienced very high rises and falls historically.

The following are material risks relevant to the Fund which are not adequately captured by the risk category.

Exposure to a Synthetic Commodity Index: The Fund provides exposure to an Index comprising commodity futures contracts rather than physical commodities resulting in the Fund's performance being reflective of the performance of these contracts not the actual commodities. The Index replaces expiring contracts into new ones, and if longer-dated contracts are more expensive, this may result in a negative roll yield, which may reduce the Index's value over time even if commodity prices are stable or rising. The Index is constructed on the basis of "notional" exposures to the constituents. Accordingly, there is no actual portfolio of assets within the Index to which any person is entitled or has any ownership interest. The Index merely tracks the performance of exposures to the constituents and is used as a reference point for the purposes of calculating the Index level. Consequently, investors in the Fund will not have any claim against any of the constituents, as well as their underlying components, referenced by the Index.

Commodity Risk: Commodity prices generally tend to be more volatile than those of other asset classes making investments in commodities riskier and more complex than others. Commodity prices, can fluctuate significantly due to certain variables including weather, location and political situation, regulatory, legal and tax changes and economic developments such as exchange and interest rates and inflation.

Currency Hedging Risk: Hedges are sometimes subject to imperfect matching between the hedging transaction and the risk sought to be hedged. There can be no assurance that the Fund's hedging transactions will be effective. As the purpose of currency hedging is to try to reduce or eliminate losses caused by exchange rate fluctuations, it can also reduce or eliminate gains where the currency in which the Fund's assets are denominated appreciates.

Index Tracking Risk: The Fund's performance may not exactly track the Index. This can result from market fluctuations, changes in the composition of the Index, transaction costs, the costs of making changes to the Fund's portfolio and other Fund expenses.

Liquidity Risk & ETF Liquidity Risk: Lack of a ready market or resale restrictions may limit the Fund's ability to sell a security at an advantageous time or price or at all. Illiquid securities may trade at a discount and may affect the ability to meet redemptions on a timely basis. Where the Fund invests in illiquid securities or does not trade in large volumes, the bid offer spreads may widen, the Fund may be exposed to increased valuation risk and reduced ability to trade. Shares in the Fund may also trade at prices materially different to the last available NAV.

Counterparty Risk: The Fund will be subject to credit risk with respect to the counterparties with which it enters into derivatives contracts and other transactions. There is a risk that these institutions may not be able to perform their obligations. This could reduce the value of the Fund's investments.

Credit Risk: The value of debt securities that the Fund purchases may be impacted by the ability of the issuer of those securities to pay the amounts of interest and principal owed as they become due. If there is a negative perception of the issuer's ability to meet its payment obligations, the value of the debt security may decrease.

Share Class Risk: There is no segregation of liabilities between Classes of the Fund. While the Investment Manager and/or Sub-Investment Manager will seek to ensure that gains/losses on and the costs of the relevant FDI associated with any currency hedging strategy will accrue solely to the Class for which it is intended, the transactions could result in liabilities for other Classes.
