Objectives and investment policy

Investment Objective
The investment objective of the fund is to seek to provide investors with the performance of the NASDAQ-100 Index (the "Index"), less the fees and expenses of the fund, while aiming to minimise the tracking error in between the fund's Net Asset Value and the Index.

Investment Policy
The fund is passively managed and will seek to achieve its investment objective by investing in equity securities listed or traded on global Regulated Markets that as far as possible and practicable consist of the constituent securities of the Index.
The fund may also hold warrants, as a result of corporate actions only, and rights.
The fund intends to replicate the constituents of the Index by holding all the securities comprising the Index in generally the same proportions as they are held in the Index. In order to replicate the Index, this fund may invest up to 20% of its Net Asset Value in shares issued by the same body. This limit may be raised to 35% for a single issuer in exceptional market conditions (i. e. where an issuer represents an unusually large portion of the market represented by the Index).
Derivatives may be used for efficient portfolio management and hedging purposes only.
As of the date of this KIID, the anticipated tracking error of the fund is expected to be up to 1% in normal market conditions.
Divergences between the anticipated and realised tracking error will be explained in the ICAV's annual return.
The fund is neither an Article 8 fund nor an Article 9 fund for the purpose of SFDR. The fund does not integrate sustainability risks nor take into account principal adverse impact of investments on sustainability factors in its investment process as its objective is to replicate as closely as possible the performance of the Index that does not take into consideration such risks in its methodology.
The Share Class aims at hedging the foreign exchange risk resulting from the divergence between the base currency of the Fund and the currency of this Share Class by using derivatives instruments whilst retaining the exposure to Investment Policy of the Fund.

- Historical data may not be reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category of a Fund is an indicator but not a target or a guarantee and may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?
The risk category is justified by the investment mainly in Interest Rate instruments. The investor's attention is drawn to the fact that an increase in interest rates results in a decrease in the value of investments in bonds and debt instruments and more generally fixed income instruments.

- The higher the risk, the longer the recommended investment horizon.

Other risks materially relevant to the Fund which are not adequately captured by the indicator are described below:

- Passive replication risk: The Sub Fund aims at replicating the performance of an Index but its performance may differ from the Index in practice. To achieve this goal, the Investment Manager may use optimisation/sampling techniques.

Further explanation of the risks associated with an investment in this Fund can be found in the prospectus.
