

Franklin Global Equity SRI UCITS ETF

Multi-Factor IE00BF2B0N83 Factsheet as of 31 March 2024

This is a marketing communication. Please refer to the prospectus of the UCITS and to the KID/KIID before making any final investment decisions.

Investment Overview

The Fund is passively managed and seeks to track the performance of the LibertyQ Global Equity SRI Index (Net Return) (the “Index”) as closely as possible, regardless of whether the Index level rises or falls. The Fund aims to replicate the Index by holding all its securities in a similar proportion to their weighting in the Index. The Index typically comprises about 230 stocks of large and mid-sized global companies selected from the MSCI ACWI SRI Index (Net Return), using a multi-factor selection process that applies four investment style factors (quality, value, momentum and low volatility).

Past performance does not predict future returns.

The fund's returns may increase or decrease as a result of changes to foreign exchange rates. All performance data shown is in the fund's base currency. Performance data is based on the net asset value (NAV) of the ETF which may not be the same as the market price of the ETF. Individual investors may realise returns that are different to the NAV performance. Past performance does not predict future returns. The actual costs vary depending on the executing custodian. In addition, deposit costs may be incurred which could have a negative effect on the value. Please find out the costs due from the respective price lists from the processing/custodian bank. Changes in exchange rates could have positive or negative effects on this investment. Please visit <https://www.franklinresources.com/all-sites> for current performance and see the latest prospectus or supplement for further details. When performance for either the portfolio or its benchmark has been converted, different foreign exchange closing rates maybe used between the portfolio and its benchmark.

What are the Risks?

The Fund does not offer any capital guarantee or protection and you may not get back the amount invested. The Fund is subject to the following risks which are materially relevant: Counterparty risk: the risk of failure of financial institutions or agents (when serving as a counterparty to financial contracts) to perform their obligations, whether due to insolvency, bankruptcy or other causes. Derivative Instruments risk: the risk of loss in an instrument where a small change in the value of the underlying investment may have a larger impact on the value of such instrument. Derivatives may involve additional liquidity, credit and counterparty risks. Emerging markets risk: the risk related to investing in countries that have less developed political, economic, legal and regulatory systems, and that may be impacted by political/economic instability, lack of liquidity or transparency, or safekeeping issues. Foreign Currency risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or due to exchange control regulations. Index related risk: the risk that quantitative techniques used in creating the Index the Fund seeks to track do not generate the intended result, or that the portfolio of the Fund deviates from its Index composition or performance. Secondary market trading risk: the risk that the shares purchased on the secondary market cannot usually be sold directly back to the Fund and that investors may therefore pay more than the NAV per share when buying shares or may receive less than the current NAV per Share when selling shares. Complete information on the risks of investing in the Fund are set out in the Fund's prospectus.

Glossary

Total Expense Ratio: Total Expense Ratio (TER) includes the fees paid to the management company, the investment manager and the depository, as well as certain other expenses. The TER is calculated by taking the relevant main material costs paid out over the 12-month period indicated and dividing them by the average net assets over the same period. The TER does not include all expenses paid by the fund (for example, it does not include what the fund pays for buying and selling securities). For a comprehensive list of the types of costs deducted from fund assets, see the prospectus. For recent all-in annual costs, as well as hypothetical performance scenarios that show the effects that different levels of return could have on an investment in the fund, where applicable, see the KID/KIID. Product Structure: The Product Structure indicates whether an ETF is holding physical securities (i.e. Physical) or whether it is tracking the index performance using derivatives (swaps, i.e. Synthetic). Methodology: The Methodology indicates whether an ETF is holding all index securities in the same weight as the index (i.e. Physical Replication) or whether an optimised subset of index securities is used (i.e. Optimised) in order to efficiently track index performance. Price to Book: The price per share of a stock divided by its book value (i.e., net worth) per share. For a portfolio, the value represents a weighted average of the stocks it holds. Price to Earnings (12-Month Trailing) is the share price of a stock, divided by its per-share earnings over the past year. For a portfolio, the value represents a weighted average of the stocks it holds. Return on Equity: A measure of a corporation's profitability that reveals how much profit a company generates with the money shareholders have invested. For a portfolio, the value represents a weighted average of the stocks it holds. Dividend Yield is the annual dividend received on an equity security as a percentage of the price. For a portfolio, the value represents a weighted average of the stocks it holds. It should not be used as an indication of the income received from this portfolio. Standard Deviation: Measure of the degree to which a fund's return varies from the average of its previous returns. The larger the standard deviation, the greater the likelihood (and risk) that a fund's performance will fluctuate from the average return.
